WAYS TO MAKE MONEY WITH UBER

QUICK CHEAT SHEET

the
SIMPLE DRIVER

Having an Uber business is a great way to supplement or earn a full-time income.

You can boost your savings or walk away from your current employer!

You see, Uber is NOT a JOB.

Wait...WHAT?

I thought I worked for Uber!

Nope!

It's a business! You are an independent contractor.

Not only that.

It's a business that has eight income streams.

With that being said...

Let me introduce to you the ways to multiply your Uber money.

I use these ways generate huge amounts of money every month.

Here they are!

Driving

Trading time for money. There is only 24-hours in a day. This means your earning potential is limited no matter how great of a driver you are. You have to eat and sleep. Even if drove 12-hours a day (Every Day) your money is limited. In addition to that, you would burn out FAST and your vehicle would be ruined.

Tips

This income is based on performance, professionalism and knowledge. The more you know about your city and rider the more you will earn in tips. The difference in a PRO Uber driver with knowledge and an everyday driver is easily an extra $80 a week.

Bonuses

Uber bonuses are icing on the money cake. First there is the Sign-Up bonus which can be up to $1,000 after completing 20-100 rides, depending on your city. Second, is the Surge pricing that happens when there is more demand than drivers in a specific area. Third, is power hour money offered during specific time blocks on special occasions called “BOOST”. Boost earnings are partners guarantees that present multiplied fares similar to surge for specific times and locations that are visible in app.

Referrals

Referrals are easily the most AMAZING source of income for ANY Uber driver can have. This income is passive and can amount to $1,000's of dollars EVERY month without driving. The cool thing is "Referrals" run parallel to Sign-Up bonuses and can reach up to $1,000 depending on the city. When drivers use your referral code to sign-up to drive for Uber you get paid after they complete the required rides. It's that easy. The absolute best way to maximize Uber referrals with your CODE is to Build An Uber Website. TRUST ME!

Affiliate Money

Having an affiliation with a company can earn you a commission just for recommending a product that will help someone. You can easily earn an extra $3,000 a month on automatic pilot just for having an affiliated link to great products in a blog post or on your Social Media channel.

Coaching

As you acquire the knowledge of how Uber works you can pass it along to NEW Uber drivers for a fee. Especially in the city YOU drive in. This is called coaching and I have generated as much as $1,200 a month charging $200 an hour for my time and expertise as a Top driver. 6 clients a month is all it takes to get paid well for your intellectual property. How cool is that?

Business to Consumer

If you have a side business or side gig this is where “B to C” income comes in. Every passenger that enters your vehicle is a potential client for that side gig or business. This effectively means that Uber is paying you as a Rideshare business owner to acquire leads for your other money maker. As a photographer I’m able to land clients from Uber rides who pay upwards of $5,000 for my services. I hope you see the power in that :-)

Business to Business

This income method is a game changer. There are several Uber riders who will be in your vehicle. Each one is a consumer who is ready to take part in a product or service. Building that rapport with the passenger is worth money to business owners who will pay you to refer them to their business. Exploring this income model can earn an average of $200 a month. The coolest part is you will get a lot of FREE meals and FREE entry to bars, pubs and clubs.
